NEW TOWN More than 1,000 Christmas gifts will be going to less fortunate children on the Fort Berthold Reservation, thanks to Operation Walking Shield.

The Three Affiliated Tribes Tourism Department received 1,004 gifts from the Lake Forest, Calif.-based organization this past week.

The tribal Tourism Department paid for the shipping and handling of the gifts which totaled $1,004 for all 1,004 gifts.

Because of the efforts of Three Affiliated Tribes Chairman Tex Hall and Randy Phelan, director of the Tourism Department for the tribe, Operation Walking Shield delivered the 1,004 toys to the Tourism building for the holiday season. Phelan, on behalf of Hall, requested assistance for the needy children of the reservation.

The Tourism Department will be donating the wrapping paper and bows needed for the gifts to the Chairman's Office.

Walking Shield Inc. is an operation that coordinates with programs of American Indian tribes and tribal leaders to improve the quality of life for American Indian families in many ways including, but not only, shelter, assistance with education and humanitarian aid. The organization was founded by Phil Stevens in 1986. Walking Shield is his Lakota name. John Castillo is the current executive director.
